From Our District Governor

Happy Half Year! Celebrating How We Share Our Talents to Make a Difference

DG Mary with Jon Black, a new member from Moultrie

This month, Rotary International focuses on Vocational Service - asking members to represent their occupations within their clubs and to exemplify the ideals of Rotary in their places of work. There are many ways you can bring your vocation to Rotary's work and add to the value of your Rotary membership. Consider:

- Volunteering to bring your skills and talents to bear on a service project with your club
- Joining a Rotary Action Group - and lending your skills and support to service projects around the world (visit rotary.org/actiongroups). You can read about one of those Action Groups in this newsletter, as we share a story from the Rotary Service Blog about RFHA, an action group started right here in District 6900.
- Joining or starting a Rotary Fellowship - Right here in District 6900, you can be part of the Rotary Means Business fellowship; see the article later in the newsletter. You may also choose to join an international group of Rotarians,
- family members, and program participants and alumni who share
- a vocational or recreational interest (visit rotary.org/fellowships)

You can also share the value of Rotary with friends and business associates - by inviting them to attend a meeting, fellowship or service event to learn more about what we do and the difference we can make working together.

And making a difference we are. As we start 2022 - halfway through this Rotary Year, I am proud of what you all have achieved so far and want to share our progress toward some key goals:

Service: With just 12 clubs reporting their completed projects in Rotary Club

Central so far, our work involved 2168 volunteers - with a total of 8883 hours and $75,690 invested in these projects. That's just under 20% of our clubs; think of what the numbers would show if all clubs reported all the good work we're doing.

Membership: You should all know by now that "Grow More (so we can) Do More" means a lot to our RI President and to me - membership is critical to all we can accomplish. Congrats to the clubs listed here for leading the district's membership growth!

Club	Members 7/1/21	Members 1/3/22	Up by	% up
Johns Creek-North Fulton	29	43	14	48.3%
Carrollton-Dawn Breakers	62	70	8	12.9%
South DeKalb County	22	29	7	31.8%
Camilla	41	47	6	14.6%
Columbus	279	285	6	2.2%
Midtown Atlanta	73	78	5	6.8%
Griffin	97	101	4	4.1%
Peachtree City	112	116	4	3.6%
Polk County	13	17	4	30.8%
Roswell	221	225	4	1.8%
Marietta	78	81	3	3.8%
Thomasville	125	128	3	2.4%
North Cobb	61	64	3	4.9%

Our Rotary Foundation Giving: I appreciate the 29 clubs who submitted their Polio Plus goals for the year - and especially the clubs who have already met those goals - Carrollton Dawnbreakers, East Cobb, Griffin Daybreak, LaGrange, Marietta, Meriwether County, Moultrie, Muscogee-Columbus, North Atlanta, North Columbus, Roswell, Smyrna, Thomasville, Tucker and Vinings Cumberland. Thanks also to the 515 individuals who have given at least $100 in support of The Rotary Foundation this year - considered Sustaining Members for the Rotary Foundation.

I appreciate all that each and every one of you is doing to help Rotary make a difference in our communities and the world. Keep up the good work!

From RI Service Blog

Envisioning a Happy, Healthy and HIV-free Future

by Sneha Saloni and the Rotary Action Group for Family Health and AIDS Prevention

"The Rotary Action Group for Family Health and AIDS Prevention \(RFHA\)" is a Rotary treasure. It changes lives. There are a lot of great things that Rotary members do, but there are only a few that can be called an actual treasure. RFHA is one of them. What it does for the people is beautiful and the impact is amazing," shares Dr. Laura Kann, district governor-elect (in Illinois) and RFHA Inc. advisor.

Kann worked with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) for 30 years. But she still felt there was something missing in terms of the work she was doing. After dedicating so many years working for public health on an international level, Kann couldn't wait to work with the people on the ground level.

The Rotary journey

"I joined the Rotary family in 2004." Reminiscing about her first meeting with Marion Bunch, RFHA Inc founder, Kann says, "I called up Marion and asked her if I could come and see her. She invited me the next weekend. I knew about her interest in working to help people with HIV and during that time, the program that I was working with in the CDC was also AIDS-focused. We had a lot of things to talk and discuss about. She ended up being my Rotary sponsor (in the Rotary Club of Dunwoody) and a few years down the line, I started helping RFHA with consulting."

"One of the things that attracted me towards Rotary was that this organization was into public health. I was working for public health on an international level, but I wasn't working on the ground. Providing direct services to the people was what I wanted to do, and Rotary gave me that opportunity,” she says.

“As part of the Rotary Polio Mission, I got an opportunity to travel to India. With the CDC, I was only working with the high-level government officials. With Rotary, I was administering vaccines to babies, learning about the problems at the ground level. The experience was drastically different. Rotary works in a unique way within a country. It works with the people, bringing solutions to the tiniest villages. And this sets it apart from many other NGOs,” shares Kann.

What is RFHA?

Describing the RFHA model, Kann says, “When people ask me what RFHA is, I always say that it is an organization that brings life-changing impact in the communities it serves. RFHA’s model is such that it allows family health days to focus on the problem of the moment. Its flexibility helps in addressing the public health issues society is dealing with in the present, and this is what makes it so special and impactful.”

“It is not a one-size fits all kind of model, but RFHA is set up in a way that it can address the needs of every community. One of the keys to the RFHA model is that it uses local people to provide health services which helps in building a bond of trust with the society. Rather than bringing some experts who know nothing about the community and its people, RFHA works closely with the locals who can easily reach out to their people,” she explains.

Helping destroy the stigma

She talks about the various stigmas and problems attached with AIDS and highlights, “One of the best things about RFHA is that it deals with the problems surrounding AIDS and related stigma in a tactful way. The family health program addresses AIDS along with all different health problems, thus reducing the stigma and making people feel that AIDS screening and intervention is not the sole reason they are receiving health services free of cost.”

“I feel this is the best way to deal with the stigma – address AIDS like another regular health problem and not a stigmatized health issue. RFHA’s approach does just that. RFHA has helped spread awareness and has saved many lives,” she adds.

Help the world heal

“The difference between those who have and those who don’t – is reflected in the healthcare system. A system that barely exists in some parts of the world,” Kann shares.

With the idea that public health system should be available to anyone in need, RFHA is transforming healthcare delivery through the Rotary Family Health Day program so that it reaches every individual. Empowering healthcare workers with resources to improve quality healthcare, RFHA has helped over 2.65 million patients by offering over 11 million free health services since 2011.

Your help will bring us a step closer in making health care accessible for all and give a happy-healthy life to many. To learn more, visit <http://www.rfha.org> or contact Sue Paget, CEO, RFHA Inc at +27 (0) 83 456 392 or spaget@rfha.org.
